TO THE CLASS OF 1948

As you leave Attleboro High School my wish for each and everyone of you is that you may find success and happiness in your chosen field, continued growth in those characteristics which mark a well-rounded personality, and a real appreciation of those qualities which make life worth living.

Good luck and may God bless you all!

SAMUEL M. GRAVES

DEDICATION

To Mr. Houghton, our building custodian, we the class of 1948, gratefully dedicate this yearbook in appreciation of his kindness to and understanding of the students of Attleboro High School.

CLASS SONG

We have come to graduation
The years have swiftly fled
But we'll still keep pressing forward
To the goals that lie ahead.
As we travel on through life, friends,
We will pleasantly recall
The days we spent at A. H. S.
Grateful for one and all.

Let us not forget our teachers
Who have helped us through each year,
Nor forget the lessons taught us,
Or the pleasures we've had here.
As we bid farewell to classmates
And on our way we wend
May the stars of faith and courage
Ever guide us to the end.

"We have crossed the river,
But the ocean lies before us."
Our motto guides us on
For our life is at its dawn.

—Millicent Brooks

Will

We, the Class of 1948, being of sound mind and stout heart (absolutely no comments from underclassmen) do declare this will, signed and sealed on June 11, 1948, to be our last testament revoking any and all others heretofore made by us. Realizing that these precious and highly fascinating characteristics would be of no use in Hollywood, New York, London, or Long Island, we leave them to you-er-underclassmen who we hope will attain the popularity, success, good humor, and brilliance so enjoyed by us.

Theresa Brochu leaves her cheerfulness to some lucky junior.

Elena Castiglia leaves her sweet manner to Barbara Hall.

Frances Chase leaves her humorous imitations to Edwina Hale.

David Cody bequeaths his artistic temperament to Bob Fisher.

Mary Castro leaves laughing; she just told herself one of those jokes.

Rita Castro wills her dreamy complexion to Frosh, Thelma Gay. You should be so lucky.

Rosemary Clegg leaves two sisters to carry on the Clegg name.

Jackie Cole leaves that pleasant personability to Jean Swanson "51".

Don Zilch leaves his record of achievements for anyone to try to compete with. My guess is no one will have the courage.

Ann Coogan wills her blushing to anyone who would like to appear sweet and innocent. (Boys need not apply!)

Don Soule leaves his book on Don Soule, Esquire, to startle the freshmen.

Marilyn Creedon and Alice Hyde leave their locker, or reasonable facsimile thereof, to Beverly Fuller providing she gets her application in early.

Lillian Martin leavesto purchase her trousseau. (Some gals get all the luck.)

Natalie McGonigle, although a red-head, leaves her good disposition to Gwen Smith "51" also a red-head.

Eleanor Merewether leaves to do something about the weather. It never did suit her, since it takes the curl out of her hair.

Barbara Miller leaves those clothes and that figure to Carolyn Wells.

Wanda Milosh leaves still a rebel at heart.

Ruth Mona wills her negligee to the sewing department, so Mrs. Cooney can exhibit it to future classes. There'll probably be a boy's class next year.

Larry Nelson leaves to get a pass. Miss Ott wants to make sure it's O. K. for him to graduate.

John Nunes wills that wit to Bob Smith "49."

Franklin Perry leaves for the Navy and may we add the government got a wonderful specimen period.

Norma Provost bequeaths her hair problems to Rita Forget.

Ruth Spinney yields her athletic ability to Jackie Mossberg.

Phyl Lowe leaves crying. She can't bear to leave all her friends. We don't blame her. I'll bet there'll even be a lump in my throat, and I'm known as "Hard-hearted Mike."

Clint Gorman leaves to raise a mustache as "purty" as the one he borrowed for the play. (They tickle!)

Irene Chicoine leaves to reduce prices in the A. & P.

Barbara Johnson leaves her superior shorthand ability to be admired by her underclassmen.

Fred Chambers, Richard Belanger, and Robert Holdgate leave in disgrace. They made one mistake in chemistry all year.

Shirley Bell leaves her quiet charm to underclassman Vivian St. Germaine.

Bob Benson leaves all the girls envious. (Such pretty hair.)

Robert Billings leaves a long line of worn-out teachers and laughing students.

Lorraine Brousseau wills her petiteness and blondeness to Doris Carlson.

Cathy Casler bequeaths her ability to forge passes to Joe Cassidy. He doesn't seem to get away with it.

Shirley Bennett and Sue Sharples leave two well-worn canteen cards and the promise of a good time to Nancy Surprenant and Nancy Crecca.

Grace Potter and Margie Craig leave a very relieved Mr. Graves and some very dull corridors.

Ralph Jordan leaves his quiet mannerisms to anyone who can't keep his mouth shut.

Frank Pinocci yields his little black book to Bill Swenson. There should be some interesting numbers in it.

Dave Lyon leaves his ability to get into trouble to the unfortunate "BerBer." Hope he never takes chemistry!

Houghton's and Heger's desire for library passes leaves Mr. Spink with writer's cramp. I wonder if the boys are studying?

Arnold Hawkins leaves his book "How to Ask Questions That Will Even Stump Teachers" to Warren Lindgrun.

Millie Brooks leaves her popularity and winning ways to the underclassmen.

Charlotte Edgecombe leaves her wonderful manner to Cynthia Hawkins.

Evelyn Anderson leaves for Alaska. She's going to knit argyle socks for the poor shivering penguins.

Virginia Armstrong leaves Dale Gould to face the temptations of the A. H. S. corridors alone. Hmmm! Guess I'll take a P. G.

Joan Audette leaves Miss Brennan wondering. Did she take gym today?

Gloriia Barrett leaves to write stories for MGM. It seems they want to work Cleo, the goldfish, in the script.

Doris Barrowman and Barbara Walker leave two empty spaces in the bicycle rack to Abbie Raymundo and Ann Mulligan.

Tessy leaves disappointed. She can't find anyone who will listen to her jokes.

Claire Soares leaves her knowledge to Connie Moehler as she slips through the key hole.

Claire Rollins leaves a very battered desk unsold in 103 and Miss Hilliard in a state of confusion. (It's not on the map.)

Ray Smith leaves happy. He got his diploma.

Janet Walsh leaves her freckles to anyone who can count them. We studied the situation and were even going to give you an estimate, but all we can see is spots.

Ruth Ploettner leaves her cuteness to her younger sister who will be a frosh next year. This bit of news pleased us very much. We thought all the good-looking ones were graduating.

Edna and Anita Varney leave the teachers wondering which is which. I understand they asked the girls to wear signs.

Mildred Todd leaves that sweet personality to frosh Esther Gilmore.

Marjorie Tipping leaves her giggles to some accomplished underclassman. Barbara Rollins will do.

Dorothy Taylor leaves excellent advice on how to pass notes to one of Miss Ott's future pupils. (She'll need it.)

Jeanette Tardiff bequeaths her pleasant ways to Ann Rigby.

Jackie Atkinson leaves her halo of shining glory to frosh Ellen Kurtz.

Harry Driscoll leaves with an armful of tools—that car!

Gerry Dubuc leaves the Glee Club minus an excellent soprano.

Esther Duclos leaves with Anita Filipe to become famous.

Babe Dennis wills her gift of gab to Norma Patten. She'll die talking.

Carolyn Freeman bequeaths her cuteness to Cynthia Hawkins.

Irene Gagnon leavs her neatness to Shirley Smith.

Joyce Gormley leaves to meet Bob.

Marshall Gormley leaves his smooth clothes to Frank McCracken.

Steve Iwuc and Fig Newton leave the overalls suspended in Mrs. Murphy's chowder. (Timber!)

Al Gunner and Art Seel leave on their motor bikes for parts unknown.

The Shang girls leave sisters.

Pauline St. Pierre leaves a well-managed Blue Owl behind.

Flora Rose leaves a majorette job well done.

Beryl Roun leaves the office minus an efficient helper.

Evelyn Phinney wills her pretty curls to Terry Langlois.

Shirley Patten leaves us wondering if she's really that quiet. Our guess is probably not!

Rita Turgeon leaves "ze crazy Americans" and her bed bugs to remain a legend in dramatics.

Remsen Patten wills his easy, non-assuming manner to David Reid.

Hazel Whitcomb leaves Carl's name echoing meaningless in the corridors.

Milly Vance laves hungry. The kids just devoured her lunch again.

Barbara Hale leaves exhilerant! She's got a date with a Harvard man.

Jean Parmenter leaves recklessly in the "Blue Owl Study" racing Ruth Haley.

Preston Stevenson leaves for Pawtucket. Wonder why?

Marion Cruff leaves an excellent example of cheerleading for underclassmen to follow.

James Jesso leaves his hieroglyphics for Miss Daley to decipher.

Cynthia Brown leaves mumbling. It seems Bud's home, Ray's coming down, and Ted's going to call.

Donnie Cash leaves to catch a bus. Dodgeville, natch!

Betty Butler leaves her excellent taste to Kay Suprenant.

Ruth Brown leaves her sophisticated swing to Elta Demarais.

Shirley Buchanan bequeaths her knowledge and personality to Helen Guillette. We hope she'll use it to good advantage.

Ollie Carlson leaves the treasury well-balanced.

Franny Keniston leaves everyone wondering just how long her pretty tresses really are.

Joan Hall bequeaths her cheerful disposition to Hazelle Lamoureux.

Kathleen Kenton leaves calm and self-poised.

Norma Parker leaves with flying colors.

Roberta Smith wills her book on "How to Get Along with People" to Harriet Berberian.

Ann Driscoll leaves her hook and sinker to anyone who can find one as profitable (including seniors.)

Irene Governo leaves her typewriter well-worn and ready for repair.

Betty Pierce bequeaths her good marks to anyone who is naturally intelligent. We've looked around, but the brilliant ones are all Seniors.

Dog Mulligan leaves a string of broken hearts behind him.

Kathleen Deegan leaves nonchalant and happy. What a life!

Gerry Doyle wills his smallness of stature to Moe. NCN—(No comments necessary!)

Claire Juaire leaves midst many tears and farewells. Gee, we'll miss her. "There will be an empty chair!"

Eddie Greves leaves to investigate a bill for higher paid firemen. Won't he look cute driving the red truck?

Norma Givens bequeaths her good looks to Agnes Ekholm.

Nancy Hardaway leaves unimpressed by her classmates. (Good attendance!)

Muriel King leaves her brother to remind Miss Hilliard of how nice the Kings are.

Larry Kohler leaves Sue sighing.

Muriel Linkletter leaves her gorgeous hair to anyone who will take the time involved in the care of it.

Gertrude Long leaves her boldness a memory to many teachers.

Theresa Lambert wills that pep and vim to Beverly Schofield.

Lorraine MacIsaac submits her sewing ability to Virginia Doyle.

Ruth Madden wills her jitterbuggin' to anyone with funds to purchase "enuf" vitamin pills.

Paul Murphy (Frank Sinatra) leaves his singing to frighten the Frosh into doing their homework.

Ray Juaire bequeaths his mellow dancing to Roger Adams.

Joan Bean bestows her patient disposition to Tina Rich.

Joseph Galvin leaves his curly locks to Clarence Amaral.

James Johnson wills his height to Billy Como.

Richard Douglas leaves his position at the Bates Theatre to anyone underpaid.

Joseph Wood leaves his Ford to the State Troopers in case they should meet with an accident.

Donald Bourdan leaves Ann to the wild elements of A. H. S.

Robert Lane bestows on Robert Kirk his lonk trek from Mansfield. Perhaps he can make school on time once.

Now we, having declared this our last will and testament, leave on tip-toe by the back door; but before we go (don't rush us) we leave this codicil which will slightly change a few things if on June 12, 1948, the moon is very bright and six black cats sing Auld Lang Syne to the popular tune of I'm My Own Grandpa, then and only then will Ev Anderson not leave for Alaska but mail her socks from Florida;
will

Ruth Ploettner not leave her cuteness to her sister but take it with her;
will

Tessy not leave disappointed because Milly Vance will listen to her jokes if Eleanor will explain them;
will

Ollie Carlson not leave the treasury well-balanced but we'll all have to pay five dollars dues;
will

Hazel Whitcomb not only leave Carl's name echoing in the corridors but teach the echo to show emotion;
will

Don Cash not leave by bus to Dodgeville but drive in his new 1948 Cadillac; and will

Most of us not leave peacefully, but return daily to pay our respects next year.

Prophecy

Jackie Atkinson, Rita Turgeon, and Muriel King are modeling for "Vogue."

Joan Audette now has a permanent position and a steady salary in Mr. Z's office.

Gloria Barrett and Doris Barrowman have traded in their Whizzers for a brand new tandem.

Joan Bean is still Jean Parmenter's rival for editor—now it's for the Attleboro Sun.

Rich Belanger and Mr. G. can be seen pondering together on their great theory—how to make Anti-freeze from salt and water.

Bunny Benson, having been voted a man of distinction, has three cars all his own and is still chauffeuring Irene Gagnon around.

Bob Billings has recently been appointed Warden at San Quentin.

Millicent Brooks, Grace Potter, Barb Miller, and Marj Craig are still getting lost in the wilds of Pawtucket East. They now have three cars instead of two!!

Lorraine Brousseau is recuperating from her position as President of Swank Inc.

"Cyn" Brown still can't decide which one it will be—we hear she is starting her own personal escort service.

Ruth Brown has four or five little Jonseys to worry about.

Shirley Buchanan and Clint Gorman have started a canteen of their own with five of their own family as charter members.

Betty Butler is in Hollywood giving quite a few stars stiff competition.

Tony Caponigro has been elected mayor of County Heights as a result of his notorious political background at A. H. S.

Don Cash has a permanent chair in the Blue Owl Office. He doesn't worry about passes.

Elena Castiglia, Esther Duclos, and Anita Filipe have opened up their own business—How To Be Smart and Still Have Fun.

Frances Chace and Janet Walsh are still inseparable.

Fred Chambers and Bob Holdgate have a laboratory of their own and have just completed their famous book—101 Easy Chemistry Experiments for Girls.

Rosemary Clegg and Jackie Cole were the only grandmothers at our 25th Class Reunion.

David Cody, under Mrs. Kelly's guidance, has become one of the world's foremost artists.

Ruth Jackson, Ruth Haley, Ev Anderson, Ann Coogan, and Lorraine MacIsaac have finally solved their transportation problems—they now operate a fleet of taxis.

Marilyn Creeden and Alice Hyde have gone into partnership and are putting most of the bakeries in Attleboro out of business.

Marion Cruff now has a string of her own cheerleaders.

Doris Taylor and Marge Tipping are still buddies, but now they have a little Johnny and a little Dave toddling along beside them.

Gerry Dubuc, Claire Juaire, and Norma Provost are making quite a mint of money giving French tutoring lessons.

Jerry Doyle has finally secured enough money to buy into the R. I. Reds.

The Big Three have been increased to the Big Four and the leaders of it are Muriel Linkletters, Rita and Mary Castro, and Dot Dennis.

Harry Driscoll now has a used car lot—his first sale was, of course, his own car.

Kathleen Deegan is residing in Bristol, R. I.

Theresa Brochu is still going steady—the ring is expected soon—telephone or otherwise.

Irene Chicoine and Larry Kohler are rival managers of two of Attleboro's leading chain stores.

Norma Givens and Don are now raising their own basketball team.

Hazel Whitcomb has recently been voted "Miss Bachelor of 1956." Where's Carl?

Kathleen Kenton is still saying, "Number, please?"

Jane Stafford and Natalie McGonigle are competing with Miss Ott for—for the heck of it.

Bud Hawkins is arguing with Einstein about the "Einstein Theory."

Muriel Dooley has taken permanent bachelor's quarter's in South Attleboro.

Virginia Armstrong is still riding in the Ford—but now it's a brand new one.

Shirley Bennett and Shirley Bell still have the same first name but their own last names have recently been changed.

Preston Stevenson is now a successful mortician and is living in Pawtucket Heights in a little cottage with Muriel.

Cathie Casler, Ann Driscoll, and Carolyn Freeman are taking lessons from Charlotte Edgecombe on how to become blondes.

Ollie Carlson is taking a P. G. so she can be nearer to the basketball team.

Ralph Jordan is still trying to finish his chemistry experiments on time.

Frank Pinocci has just been elected the new mayor of Hebronville, after defeating Paul Murphy. He has appointed two new officials—Nancy Hardaway and Irene Governo—dog catcher and street sweeper respectively.

Marshall Gormley is now the Third Assistant Vice President at the Army and Navy Store.

Joyce Gormley continues to be quiet in her own little way.

Pauline St. Pierre is still going mad trying to untangle the Blue Owl books.

Norma Parker and Shirley Patten are still having those early morning tete-a-tetes, but now they're over the back yard fence.

Remsen Patten has just signed a contract—he's a full-fledged truck driver for his uncle.

Evelyn Phinney has established a new record for never being late.

Betty Pierce is now U.N.'s chief interpreter.

Ruth Ploettner is as pretty as ever.

Milly Vance's fondest desires have just been realized—she is now the first woman President.

Wanda Milosh is designing and modeling for the Elite at Saks, Fifth Avenue.

Eleanor Merewether and Barbara Hale have turned out to be B. T. O.'s at Balfour's.

Jimmy Jesso is still trying to become a successful actor.

Barbara Johnson and Gertrude Long have formed the B. T. F. M. S. P. C. Club—Bad Time for Mr. Spink Period C. Club

"Hector" Heger, Kenny Houghton and Steve Iwuc are still hanging around together, but it is no longer outside of 208.

Ray Juaire has now founded a school for teachers that don't agree with him on certain subjects—Mr. G. is his prize pupil.

Jim Martineau has opened up his own Lunch Cart and is giving Morin's a run for their money.

Edna and Anita Varney are driving people to Foxboro trying to tell them apart.

Although "Monster" Perry, "Dog" Mulligan, and "Fig" Newton have since left, Miss Ott is still looking for "Harvey."

Ruth Mona is now rocking her wee ones to sleep to the tune of Bell Bottom Trousers.

Theresa Lambert is still chasing Al Gunner Jr., on her "Whizzer."

Joan Hall has returned to A. H. S. to be Mr. Godding's assistant.

"Lefty" Greve is the Earl Torgeson of the Attleboro Twinlight League.

Lillian Martin's lustrous locks have come in handy—she's posing for "Halo" ads.

Mildred Todd has just received her long awaited present from Russ—what a sparkler!

Dave Lyon is mayor of South Attleboro, and Frank Pinocci and he are having a boundary dispute—they're both trying to secure the mighty Seekonk Army commanded by Don "Monsieur de la Croix" Soule. — — FLASH!!! Bob Galvin, who commands the Briggs' Corner forces, and Bob Lane, Mansfield police commissioner, have been reported having tea with Frank—Looks bad, Dave!

Phyllis Lowe and Frances Kenniston are still passing notes, but now they're using the mail service with Dot Bergevine as the chief mail carrier.

Bob McLeod is playing in the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Remember when he played the A. H. S. Orchestra?

John Nunes is still trying to find a ride home to Bungay.

Flora Rose has opened up a school in Featherville—she's still twirling those batons.

Beryl Roun has just become famous as an interior decorator because of her recent invention—knitted wallpaper. P. S.—She started in high school.

Mary and Olive Shang are still sisters.

Sue Sharples is pining madly for another leap year to come.

Roberta Smith and Warren Stromberg are still blushing very easily.

Clair Soares is a teacher, but it's hard to distinguish her from the pupils. P. S.—She's teaching the third grade.

Jeannette Tardiff has finally decided which office at A. H. S. she is going to work in.

Helen Sutton and Rise Stevens are almost at blows because Helen has the leading role in "Carmen."

Art Seel and Ray Smith are trying to catch up to Jerry Doyle in height and need only about six more feet.

Chet Bielecki has finally come out of the dark—Mr. Goding's dark room, of course.

Joe Hughes has just cracked up—seems that eight subjects were to much for him in his last year at A. H. S.

Ken Blandin is the chief technician for Larry Nelson's underground movement.

Marjorie Claflin is now the foremost exterminator at A. H. S. Those termites are disappearing fast.

Mez Salley is also taking a P. G.—that's one way to hold him, Mez.

Adelaid Sears has opened up a "slop shop" of her own.

Shirley Lesperance, Barbara Walker, and Barbara Scanlon are still quiet as church mice.

Rich Douglas, James Johnson, and Joe Wood have succeeded in opening a very successful trade school of their own.

Don Bourden has just recently become a permanent member of a certain Holman Street household.

Ruth Spinney has just taken over Miss Brennan's job—gym classes now start on time, girls.

Mary Lou Allard has been voted President of the Girl Scouts in the United States.

Claire Rollins is famous for her adlibbing on her radio show. Fred Allen is trying to find out her secret.

Ruth Madden is still living on Pine Street, but now it is under a different name.

Jackie Cole has acquired such a large number of speeding tickets that she has employed Rose Mary Clegg to tell her which days she's due in what court.

Eleanor Tesler and Don Zilch have taken to the hills after writing this class prophecy. Do you blame them?

History

"Freshmen we came, timid and tame." But then you must admit we weren't so different from the preceding Freshmen classes even though they thought that we were. At least we followed the tradition of the high school by running around with that "lost dog" expression on our poor, young, innocent faces. We blushed with embarrassment everytime an upperclassman cast a scornful glance in our direction.

This year Betty Pierce, Kathleen Kenton, Cynthia Brown, and Jean Parmenter were honored by being chosen members of the "Blue Owl" staff, and such boys as Frank Pinocci and Donnie Zilch made their contributions to the athletic department.

Finally the long lost hopes of electing class officers came true. The results were as follows: Jacqueline Cole, President; Charlotte Edgecombe, Vice-President; Betty Pierce, Secretary; and Carolyn Freeman, Treasurer. With the help of Miss Pierce, our faculty adviser, and the dance committee, we put on the Freshman social, better known as the "Jinx Jubilee." Although it was a very rainy night, the dance turned out to be a huge success, and we were more than proud to say we were Freshmen.

By this time Ruth Brown and Eleanor Tesler had got up enough courage to push and shove for the first place in front of the mirror, and were soon learning the art of making-up from the Senior girls. The boys also were improving their appearances, especially Dave Lyon, who had lengthened his pants.

By this time June was nearing, and we were already looking forward to our second year.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

"There are Life Savers labelled peppermint, wintergreen, etc. We found a new brand and labelled them Sophomores." What a glorious feeling to know we wouldn't be picked on by the upperclassmen as we had been during our Freshman year! It was with great satisfaction that we could look upon the in-coming Freshies. My, how small they were—why, mere children; while we were part of the upperclassmen now and were beginning to distinguish ourselves as such. We all remember the joyous times that we spent in Mrs. Lyon's sanctum, and we were all sorry to see her leave.

When the smoke rolled back from the scene of the battle of class elections, we found that Jackie Cole had again been elected President; Donnie Zilch, Vice-President; Betty Pierce, Secretary; and Carolyn Freeman, Treasurer.

Again to the "Blue Owl staff we sent members, who this year showed their talents in many different departments. In sports, many of the up and coming heroes demonstrated their skills at "bench warming", while Frank Pinocci became the pride of the Sophomore class by making the Varsity Basketball Team. Girls like Marion Cruff, Charlotte Edgecombe, Norma Givens, Ruth Jackson, and Natalie McGonigle upheld the feminine side of the class sports.

Among other events this year, our invincible basketball team went to the Tech Tournament.

A new sensation was created when we came forth with the "Sophomore Pow-Wow", a dance that will not be forgotten, because of the wonderful decorations which were culminated by the artistic ability of David Cody.

We are now coming to the close of our Sophomore year. After many dissappointments and successes, we wondered what the Junior year held in store for us. With the best of intentions we left our Sophomore year and looked forward with high expectations to our third year.

JUNIOR YEAR

"And now we appear as Juniors, hard working, careworn, and weary." After the office help got tired of seeing "peeping-Toms" from morning until one-forty, our new principal, Mr. Samuel Graves, was introduced to us in the first assembly of the year.

The first and one of the most important things we did was to elect a ring committee which, after long debates, selected those beautiful blue stoned gems which we flashed proudly.

The next thing on the agenda was to elect our class officers. We switched from girl to boy and made Frank Pinocci, President; Donald Zilch, Vice-President; Suzanne Sharples, Treasurer; and Kathleen Deegan, Secretary.

The change that had taken place in two short years was remarkable. We see the girls admiring the Senior boys, while the Junior boys seen quite attentive to the Freshmen girls.

Football, our most popular game, did not lack juniors. John Nunes, Tony Caponigro, and Jimmy Martineau were all standouts. Eddie Greve was playing for the baseball team, while Frank Pinocci still held his own on the basketball court.

Next was the Junior dance. Having foresight to those ever-increasing class dues, we now needed a dance that would be a financial success as well as one that would live up to the usual high standards. Consequently, we came forth with the very original "Stairway to a Star" which turned out to be both.

There was a great deal of excitement around the corridors earlier in the year when ten of the Junior girls were initiated into the Tri-Y. We never realized anyone could look so horrible!

Three years behind us now! We looked forward with the same enthusiasm with which we had begun our Junior year to the last and and most eventful one yet.

SENIOR YEAR

"We're here because we're here." At last it had happened! For three long years we had been waiting to become the dignified Seniors whom everyone looks up to. It was now that we could command respect from the lower classmen; but we knew it was up to us to set a good example, which we readily did. We were Seniors in every sense of the word.

In the final political campaign of our high school career we elected Donald Zilch, President; Catherine Casler, Vice-President; Kathleen Deegan, Secretary; and Olive Carlson, Treasurer. And with these we started off the Senior year. With their help and the help of the dance committee, we presented the first dance of the year, "The Senior Anonymous." Could anything be more original? I don't think anyone will forget the way Milly Vance and Ken Houghton came whizzing out on their bicycle built for two.

Our football and basketball teams did amazingly well this year. We certainly showed those "Northies" who knew how to play football. As usual John Nunes, Craig Mulligan, Tony Caponigro and Frank Pinocci carried the torch for the Senior Class and were ably assisted by John Newton, Stevie Iwuc, Gerry Doyle and Ralph Jordan. Frank Pinocci was the lone survivor for the basketball team but again showed that he had not lost any of his ability at shooting baskets.

Another big event of the season was the Senior Prom, the "Snowflake Fantasy", a very appropriate name because of the fierce snow storm that had occurred the day before. Ann Driscoll and Frank Pinocci were crowned the royal couple.

Attleboro High School was honored this year by having five Senior girls—Joan Bean, Cynthia Brown, Betty Pierce, Anita Felipe, and Jean Parmenter become members of the National Honor Society. This was a very impressive ceremony. We were all very proud of these girls.

Mr. William Spink, a new member of the faculty this year, directed the Senior play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." It was what is called "a smash hit." It starred Cynthia Brown and Eleanor Tesler, while Don Zilch, Rita Turgeon, Betty Pierce, Jean Parmenter, Art Seel, Mildred Vance, Hazel Whitcomb, Clint Gorman, Barbara Miller, Paul Murphy, David Lyon, and Jimmy Jesso all did a marvelous job of backing them up.

In March the French Club sponsored the "Mardi Gras." Although it was the first time anything of this sort had been attempted, it turned out to be the most elaborate dance of the year.

The highest scholastic honors went to Betty Pierce and Anita Filipe, who were chosen valedictorian and salutatorian respectively.

We have finally reached the turning point in our career where upon we are all taking a different path. No matter which it is, we leave this thought in mind:

"We have crossed the river;
But the ocean lies before us."

HONOR SOCIETY

"So proudly we hail!" At an impressive ceremony held December 4, 1947 (a day we are sure not one of the five will ever forget!) the charter members of the newly formed Attleboro Chapter were inducted into the National Honor Society. It was a thrilling affair. No one but those who have experienced it can realize what it is to be tapped on the shoulder and suddenly awakened to find himself being escorted down the aisle.

Newly elected members became acquainted with the significance of the great honor of being chosen a member of this national organization whose standards are both high and varied. One must not only have a high scholastic rating but also be of good moral character and an outstanding high school citizen.

The second ceremony was held May 7 at which time both Juniors and Seniors were inducted.

Oh, yes! Who were the "Big Five"? Anita, president of the society, wso was our salutatorian; Cynnie, honor essayist, the vice-president; Jean, co-editor-in-chief of Tattletale and Blue Owl; Betty, our valedictorian; and Joanie, the other half of the Tattletale and Blue Owl, were the committee responsible for the planning of the May induction ceremony.

LIBRARY AIDES

The atmosphere of the library continued to be enhanced by the charms of a group of girls who gave up extra study periods to assist Miss Harris and the students. They ran the errands, returned library slips and were generally helpful. Some of these girls also elected the Library Science Course which consisted of a period of instruction each week in addition to their five periods of laboratory work for which they received credits.

TATTLETALE

What has bounced out of the walls in back of the ge this year? You can easily guess, can't you? at's right!—an outstanging, super duper, most won- ful edition of the TATTLETALE! We'll bet that u haven't seen anything like ye "Gods and God- ess" before! By the way, besides having loads of , there was a little work involved. We tramped thfully from that hole in the wall, known as the ue Owl" office, to Room 203 and Miss Stoehr. Con- quently, this year's staff suggests that a royal rpet be laid from said office to 203 to save wear d tear on the soft soles of those staff members who tted there every day for five months to com- e this book. After hours of futilely wracking r brains, we came forth with this publication ich we hope brings each of you many hours of asure.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Do you have any complaints to make? Bring them to the Student Council. Everyone is familiar with the duties of this organization, especially since that "Win or Lose Fun Frolic." This year along with its regular activities, our Student Council entertained the Southeastern Branch of Associated Bodies of Student Councils of Massachusetts. Members of the Council attended such conferences held at different schools throughout the year. Congratulations to Fuzzy Ney who was elected not only President of the Southeastern Branch but also of the State Branch.

Serving as officers were Lorraine Brousseau, President; Ann Driscoll, Vice-President; Shirley Buchanan, Secretary; and Fuzzy Ney, Treasurer.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

"Sing so the frowns won't find your face" was the motto of the boys who met weekly with Mr. Chase to study musical compositions and to enjoy singing together. They have done much to support the musical end of our school entertainment. Participation in the annual spring concert was an enjoyable experience for them. Mr. Chase hopes that a future Nelson Eddy will be discovered among them.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

"And the angels sing!" Every Monday, while the student body should be deeply engrossed in preparing their lessons, we are serenaded by a group of eighty-five girls under the direction of Mr. Chase. These girls met to study the standard musical works of renowned composers. The accompanist was Eunice Anderson.

HI-Y

Have you ever wondered if you would see more than ten boys at one time in Attleboro? You can if you visit the Hi-Y meetings. There is no man shortage there! The Hi-Y enjoyed a very successful year under the direction of the President, Ralph Hudson; Vice-President, Howie O'Hare; Secretary Franklin Perry; Treasurer, Bob Foley; and adviser Howard Chilson. Their programs consisted of a business meeting followed by either a movie or a speaker who not only had to speak but also to dodge the barage of elastics whizzing between Carl Weeman and Hootie Wetherall. They conducted paper drives and sponsored a session of the Canteen with the Tri-Hi-Y. But foremost in the hearts of ten of our hemen was the convention held in Northampton. Why? After the convention a dance was held and all of them were fixed up with blind dates. Ah, yes! The wolf comes out in them now. This year they also had their outing with the Tri-Y in May.

TRI-Y

Tri-Y and initiation go together, and this year was no exception. That day last fall when we thought Attleboro High was invaded by a group of gypsies was typical of a Tri-Y initiation day. However, this was only the beginniing of the club's activities. With faculty adviser, Miss Edith Hinckley, the club met every other Monday night at the high school to hear various spakers such as Mr. Zmudsky, Dr. Carlton Ford, and three nurses from the Sturdy Memorial Hospital. Looked forward to by all of the fairer sex (and also the boys) is that famed Tri-Y dance, this year called "Christmas Tree Inn." Another activity that kept the Tri-Y busy this year was the Banquet held for their Alumni of the past four years. Officers this year were President, Cyn Hawkins; Secretary, Eunice Anderson; and Treasurer, Norma Givens.

DRIVERS' EDUCATION

"Queek! THE BRAKE!" How many times did Mr. McLean shout that at the energetic little group who met each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday Period X to pry into the deep, dark mysteries of driving. Many are the stories we heard about those escapades in Capron Park—driving around trees, turning around in the middle of said park, (on roads, of course), or simply trying to keep steering in a straight line. For many months the students taking this course devoted their time to studying the mechanics; after that finishing, the whole class was able to distinguish between lthe clutch and the brake. However, after all kidding is over, weren't we proud to see so many kids driving a car (with all that postery it looked like a circus wagon) and becoming efficient drivers through the drivers' education class?

CANTEEN COMMITTEE

Who was responsible for those wonderful times had every Saturday night at "Swing Inn"? Maybe the girls think it was the fellows and vica versa, but it was not. It was none other than the old faithful canteen committee. Every Wednesday night these people trudge up to the "Y" to decide what will happen the next week. With Fuzzy Ney, Chairman; Shirley Buchanan, Vice-Chairman; Virginia Doyle, Secretary; Clint Gorman, Treasurer; and Daniel Kitchen, Adviser, they decided who would be at the door, who would run the coke bar, and, of course, who would be on the clean-up committee. This year such special parties as the Christmas Party, Valentine Party, and the Anniversary Party were held. The additions to the canteen were the public address system and the spotlight.

SECOND ROW: Florence Pelletier, Arthur Randall, Hazelle Lamoureaux, Barbara Anderson, Joseph Baron, Arlene Pelton, Nancy Crecca.

THIRD ROW: Eleanor Tesler, Shirley Billings, Marie Kirby, Elizabeth Green, Lena Sylvester.

SPANISH CLUB

"COMPRENDE VD. ESPANOL?"

One of the newest clubs in A. H. S. this year, the Spanish Club was organized for the purpose of furthering acquaintanceship with the customs and language of Spanish-speaking people. Under the supervision of Senorita Politella, the members elected President, Sheldon Smith; Vice President, Abbie Raymundo, and Secretary-Treasurer, Arlene Bell. Pan-American Day was observed, and other holidays were celebrated in the Spanish style. The club also edited a newspaper and planned the annual Spanish Fiesta.

FRENCH CLUB

Remember the Mardi Gras? Do you know who was responsible for this carnival of confetti, noisemakers, masks, and colorful gowns? It was none other than the French Club. Under the capable direction of Mlle. Pierce and President Rita Turgeon, it met every Thursday during Period X in the sewing room. And did they have fun? "Mais oui!"

The purpose of the "Cercle" was to improve the French diction and to enable the members to "parler francais" more fluently. At the beginning of the year each member signed a pledge stating that he would speak nothing but French from the time the meeting was called together until adjournment.

The pride of the French Club was the Mardi Gras which was the different dance of the year. It was inexpensive yet semi-formal, and it was carried on in typical Mardi-Gras fashion—a fad enjoyed by all who attended.

SKETCH CLUB

With tools in hand the Sketch Club undertook many projects such as metal work, finger painting, sculptoring with soap and clay, and seasonal work. However, due to the necessity of Mrs. Kelly's leaving, the activities of the club were limited.

Officers of the club were Bob Fisher, President; Milton Wilheimer, Vice-President; Mary Bliss, Secretary; and Kathie Kenton, Treasurer.

Now that the new member of the faculty, Mrs. Gerlach, is here, the members anticipate a full schedule for next year.

PRESS CLUB

Ever read the Attleboro Sun? Oh, yes, naturally all of us who go to A.H.S. have read the high school notes that appear each evening. Who is responsible for keeping our parents up on the absence list and other happenings around school? Why, it is no one other than the Press Club! Each day one reporter tells of the events in school such as assemblies, dances, movies and other school functions. After these notes have been handed to Miss Allen, the faculty member for the Press Club who proofreads them, they are typed and sent to the "Attleboro Sun" just in time for the first edition.

MIXED CHORUS

"And their voices blended in song."

The mixed chorus meets weekly and includes members of the Boys and Girls' Glee Clubs. This group of forty-five voices studied the works of all composers and learned to sing in harmony. They sang at the National Honoir Society assemblies. Jean Taylor, Ruth Spinney, and John Newton accompanied Mr. Chase to the New England Music Festivcl at Portland, Maine, in April.

SENIOR PLAY

We suffered along with Cornelia and Emily each time the safety pockets showed up; we laughed at Emily's fear of high places; we caught Cornelia's measles—but we still arrived in Paris. With the slogan, "The show must go on", Mr. Spink and the Senior Class undertook the production of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." Ripley himself would not believe the obstacles overcome by these artists to make the play such a great success. Could Tessy ever forget the famed telephone—the one that fell apart? Scatterbrained Emily, portrayed by Cyn Brown, added much to the play. Can't you imagine Cyn and Tessie alone in Paris? We suffered with Dave as he plodded along under the weight of the girls' trunks. Rita's accent was right out of this world. We were transported to the days of the French Revolution when her excitement reached its zenith.

How many times did Anita Filipe fire cues to Donny Soule? Did you know who the "gal" behind the screen was? Shirley Buchanan was helping us over the rough spots. Ah, fond memories!

"THE TWILIGHT SAINT"

For the first time in many years the task of producing a serious play was undertaken by the dramatic department. The results of their efforts was the highly dramatic production, "The Twilight Saint", written in a blank verse and directed by Mr. William B. Spink. The plot concerned Guido, a young poet, who because he had learned to prize worldly possessions more than spiritual contentment, had lost his gift to compose. His wife, Lisetta, distressed by his emotional upset, had become deathly ill, because she realized Guido no longer loved her. The arrival of Saint Francis of Assissi, who gave both of them ethreal council, once more brought Guido to his senses and again he was able to write beautiful verses as before.

Student director of this play was Florence Pelletier. The cast was as follows: Guido, the young poet, Fuzzy Ney; Lisetta, his bed-ridden wife, Hazelle Lamoureaux; Pia, a weazened, old woman who waits on Lisetta, Helen Guillette; Saint Francis of Assissi, a benevolent old monk, James Jesso. Because of the extreme difficulty in producing such a thoroughly moving and philosophical presentation, all the members of the cast deserve commendation for their outstanding performances.

VIDIO CLUB

Have you seen a lot of movies around school this year? Did you wonder who was responsible for turning the switches that operates the lights? It's none other than the Video Club. Under the direction of Mr. Goding, the club operates everything that you see or hear. Included in its activities this year were operating the moving picture camera for all the classes, producing the sound effects for the various plays and creating the lighting effects for the senior play and the vaudeville show. Officers this year were Bruce Purdy, President, and Sheldon Smith, Vice—President.

BLUE OWL

Green ink, cartoons, etc., all innovations of the most wonderful institutions of Attleboro High School, the "Blue Owl," and its next of kin, the Red Robbin (commonly known as the April Fools' issue). Besides of the above mentioned, there were those marvelous six page additions and the super duper eight page Thanksgiving edition which everyone was sure just couldn't emerge from the gloomy, little hole in the wall—our office. With "Seek and ye shall find" as our motto, we proceeded, after having been evicted from the clinic—since converted into a Guidance Office to find our own hangout. Ever faithful A. H. S. came up with one wing of the stage. In this little nook, which was always crowded to capacity, the Blue Owl editors wrote, discarded, and rewrote their material until it was fit for our outstanding paper. Under the friendly supervision of Miss Barbara Jeffers, we put out a publication to be proud of. To quote Jean and Joanie, "Long live the 'Blue Owl' "!!

CHEERLEADERS

Marion Cruff dressed in white
She's our gal—
She did all right.

Cyn, Cyn, a typical clown—
On the floor she went to town.

Charlotte of the golden hair
Shared the oh's everywhere.

Norma, Norma, with face so fair,
Cheering athletes far and near.

June leaping through the air
Delighted audiences everywhere.

Kaye, Kaye, oh so neat,
Kept the boys on their feet.
Elta, Elta, with lots of pep
While cheering she sure is hep.

Put these girls all together
They would alarm the wise.
Spencer found them winners
Of a mighty worthy prize.

BAND

"And the band played on" isn't only applicable to men of Casey's day. Our music makers started off the year at a busy rate playing at football games. They participated in the annual spring concert held in May. An invitation extended by B. U. to join thirty other Massachusetts high schools for a High School Day was accepted. The colorful display of uniforms and the effect of those thirty bands playing "Military Escort" in unison added zest to the atmosphere for the B. U. vs. Colgate game.

The band lost an able leader when Mr. Zambarano, after ten years of service, found it impossible to keep Attleboro on the teaching list. Mr. Chase has assumed these duties.

ORCHESTRA

The strains of sweet music, which soothed our shattered nerves and distracted our attention from homework, floated from the instruments of the orchestra members. They provided music for assemblies, the Senior Play, and participated in the annual concert in May. Four membrs of the orchestra, Robert Billings, Charlotte Merrill, Maureen Ledoux and Robert McLeod played in the Massachusetts All-State Orchestra at Symphony Hall in Boston after a three-day rehearsal. Although two seniors, Robert Billings and Robert McLeod, are leaving the orchestra this year, a fine group remains to carry on.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." With this idea in mind the Junior Red Cross swung into service. These industrious girls under the leadership of Cyn Brown, President, filled many boxes for overseas. They also knitted squares, made jackets, and stuffed toys. Mrs. Cooney ably advised the organization.

MATH CLUB

Angles, polygons, hypotenuses, and rectangles are the bane of some of our young lives. To that group that gathered with Mr. Skelton every Thursday night, they were play toys from which much pleasure was derived. To solve unusual problems and learn how mathematics is related to other fields of work was a satisfying pastime. The program was varied by interesting talks and movies.

The members elected Charles Bennett, President and Jean Faulkner, Secretary.

BASEBALL

Baseball, being the major sport of the spring season and this report having to go to press before the middle of the season, makes it difficult for us to sum up the entire season. Up to date the A. H. S. diamond boys have played three games in the regular schedule, defeating Pawtucket West by a large margin and winning once from Wellesley and then losing the third game of the season to the same team by close scores.

Seniors out to make the team this year are Frank Pinocci, Franklin Perry, Don Bourden, and Eddie Greve.

FOOTBALL

The record of the 1947 football squad this year was a much better one that has been accounted for since the days of Powers Inc.

Their seasonal record was 4 wins—4 losses—and 2 ties with wins over Walpole, Fairhaven, Taunton and North. One of the ties was with Durfee who didn't lose a game the whole season.

The most treasured victory was that one played on Thanksgiving morning at North. The bombardiers outscored, outclassed and outplayed the Northies to the tune of 31-6.

Outstanding seniors on the gridiron this year were Frank Pinocci, Don Bourden, Tony Caponigro, John Nunes, John Newton, and Craig Mulligan. We wish these boys the best of luck wherever they may go.

BACK ROW: William Marcoccio, Mac

SECOND ROW: Richard Lipscomb, Donald Cash, Gerald Doyle, Arthur Larmay, Robert O'Donnell, Stephen Iwuc, Harry Driscoll, Arnold Hawkins, Robert Bensson, Vernon King.

FIRST ROW: Craig Mulligan, Arthur Moore, Walter Moore.

TRACK

This year's track is having the biggest turn-out since the "Class of '48" entered the school's surroundings. And with a bigger schedule the team should have quite a few points to its credit before the season is over. Much to our sorrow this column had to go to press before the season really got started. With one meet to date against New Bedford Voke the A. H. S. Tracksters took two places in every race to win 44-31.

Seniors out for track this year are Harry Driscoll, Craig Mulligan, Jerry Doyle, Ralph Jordan, Donald Cash, Bunny Bensson, Steve Iwuc, and Arnold Hawkins. The race is on! Mercury will have competition.

BASKETBALL

The A. H. S. basketballers came back from a very depressive season last year, to just barely miss an invitation to the Tech Tourney with a seasonal record of 13 wins and 7 defeats. The highlights were the two moral victories against the New England Champs, Durfee, losing twice 50-53 and 52-57. The latter loss was the game that decided whether or not the Toziermen would be entitled to a crack at the Eastern Massachusetts Championship. Also we wish to mention that the star of the year was Frank Pinocci, who was second in the B. C. scoring, trailing Andy Farrissy by 5 points, with 296 points to his credit.

Also keeping the ball moving on the floor at times were Craig Mulligan, a senior, and a fleet of juniors and sophomores who are expected to return next year and give Durfee a real fight for the fan's money.

HIRD ROW: Donald Briggs, Richard adden, Walter King, Donald Bourdon, chard March, Franklin Perry, Ralph liver.

WRESTLING

For the first year in the history in A. H. S. wrestling was inaugurated into the school sports. Coach Cassidy had a fine turnout, although they were lacking in experience. In future years he expects to have much better luck in the sport. Experience is the best teacher, and it takes a year or two for the boys to get what is needed for most any sport.

The team had five meets this season against Hope High, Moses Brown, the Perkins Institute of the Blind, and two meets with Needham High School.

The seniors who were voted letters were Franklin Perry and Ralph Jordan.

SECOND ROW: Miss Brennan, Ella Fleming, Jackie Mossberg, Eunice Anderson, Violet Hogberg, Barbara Hall, Marilyn Lange

FIRST ROW: Ruth Galvin, Joan Pilblad, Peggy Willsey, Arlene Bell.

SECOND ROW: Jean Beausoleil, Ann Mulligan, Nancy Suprenant, Phyllis Robinson, Arlene Bell, Mary Munroe, Annie O'Donnell.

FIRST ROW: Carole Clegg, Theresa Coleman, Olive Redden, Regina Hilliard, Roberta McGee.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

This year girls' basketball team was one that the girls of A. H. S. won't forget for some time to come. They were undefeated for the first time in seven years.

The season was highlighted by such wins as those over Wrentham, Foxboro, and the Y. M. C. A.

In the second game with Foxboro, on the Foxboro home court, the girls were held to a 38-38 tie in one of the thrillers of the season. With only one senior on the team we must say that the girls should be tops next year. The stars of this years team were as follows:

Jackie Mossberg, Marion Cruff, and Torchy Anderson as forwards; at the guard positions were "Pinky" Galvin, "Butch" Coleman, and "Hoggy" Hogberg.

Good luck to the best girl athlete of the "Class of '48," Marion Cruff.

GIRLS' FIELD HOCKEY

Girls' field hockey was a new sport in A. H. S. Under the direction of Miss Brennan the team was organized. About fifteen girls reported to practiice at Willett Field to learn the fundamentals of field hockey. The girls who comprised the team were chosen from A. A. members only. Those who participated this year were Theresa Coleman, Olive Redden, Mary Monroe, Regina Hilliard, Phyllis Robinson, Carol Clegg, Ann Mulligan, Arlene Bell, Jean Beausoliel, Roberta McGee, and Jackie Mossberg.

Although this team didn't play competitive games this year, Miss Brennan has hopes for the 1949 season. One of the reason the team couldn't play was the late arrival of the goal posts; in fact, they didn't arrive until the last day of the hockey season, and of course, there is always difficulty in getting a new sport rolling. The best of luck to a new and interesting addition to A. H. S.'s sports curriculum.
